

SOUTH SLAVE 2018
ARCTIC WINTER GAMES // FIND YOUR POWER

June 7, 2016

For Immediate Release:

Table Tennis added to the 2018 South Slave Arctic Winter Games sports.

2018 South Slave Arctic Winter Games (2018 SSAWG) Host Society President Gregory Rowe announced publicly today that Table Tennis will be added to the list of sports competing in 2018.

“We are pleased to have the opportunity to include Table Tennis, a sport that is growing in the NWT, and has always had a strong presence across the circumpolar world,” said Mr. Rowe.

The addition of Table Tennis was approved by the 2018 SSAWG Host Society at their regular meeting held on June 4th, 2016. This makes the total number of sports competing in the 2018 Games to nineteen, adding approximately 70 participants from 8 contingents.

“The venues for all sports, including Table Tennis, are currently being assessed as we challenge the assumptions made in our bid document,” states Mr. Rowe. “We expect to confirm them by September 2016, when the Host Society meets with the Arctic Winter Games International Committee.”
